BELGIUM

The lamina sintered stone slabs in the Belgium collection draw their inspiration from the enigmatic charm of Scandinavia, those places where stone is a dominant part of the landscape; here, nature itself, with its strength, erodes the rock to create beguiling protrusions and dips which stand proudly and solemnly on the North Sea.

Owing to its extreme versatility, Belgium can be applied both indoors and out, and it is designed to interpret both more contemporary and minimalist tastes as well as the more refined and stylish ones.

R-RATING SLIP RESISTANCE

The R rating for slip resistance is a standardized measure used to evaluate the slip resistance of flooring materials, including granite tiles. It indicates how slip-resistant a surface is, especially when wet or under certain conditions. This rating is crucial for applications where safety is a concern, such as in commercial spaces, bathrooms, or outdoor areas. Here's a breakdown of the R rating scale :

Understanding the R Ratings

The R rating ranges from R9 to R13, with each level representing a different degree of slip resistance. It is determined through a standardized test called the ramp test. This test involves a person walking on an inclined ramp covered with the flooring material, which is gradually tilted until the person slips. The angle at which slipping occurs is used to determine the R rating :

CLASSING	INCLINE ANGLE	SLIP RESISTANCE	AREA OF USE
R9	6° - 10°	Low	■ Suitable for dry indoor areas, such as living rooms and bedrooms. ■ Not recommended for areas that are frequently wet or exposed to water.
R10	10° - 19°	Medium	■ Suitable for most indoor applications, including residential kitchens, hallways, and low-traffic commercial spaces. ■ Can be used in areas that may occasionally get wet but not continuously exposed to water.
R11	19° - 27°	High	■ Suitable for areas that may become wet, such as bathrooms, kitchens, and laundry rooms. ■ Often used in commercial kitchens or areas where water spillage is likely.
R12	27° - 35°	Very High	■ Suitable for commercial spaces, industrial areas, and outdoor surfaces exposed to water, like swimming pool surrounds and outdoor terraces. ■ Provides excellent slip resistance even when the surface is wet or greasy.
R13	Over 35°	Maximum	■ Suitable for areas with a high risk of slipping, such as heavy-duty industrial floors, ramps, and wet processing areas. ■ Often used in commercial or industrial settings where continuous water exposure is expected.
